

SANCTUARY

A Sanctuary at Sea

Welcome Aboard Sanctuary

Indonesia is an archipelago defined by water — where islands, cultures, and stories have long been connected by the sea. Sanctuary was created in quiet response to this relationship, shaped by the belief that the most meaningful journeys unfold slowly.

Rooted in Indonesian maritime heritage and crafted as a modern phinisi, Sanctuary offers a way of being at sea that feels calm, personal, and deeply considered. Here, life moves at a gentler rhythm. Time softens. Distractions fall away.

Each voyage is an invitation to reconnect — with nature, with place, and with yourself. From the stillness of open water to moments of thoughtful exploration, Sanctuary is not about where you go, but how you experience every moment along the way.

Welcome aboard. Your journey begins here.

Philosophy Of Sanctuary

Sanctuary is guided by a simple principle: meaningful experiences are shaped by intention, not excess. At sea, this means moving with awareness — honoring natural rhythms, allowing space for stillness, and approaching exploration with care.

Inspired by the wisdom behind traditional phinisi craftsmanship, Sanctuary embraces balance over spectacle. These vessels were designed to endure, to adapt, and to live in harmony with their surroundings. That same mindset informs life onboard today — where comfort feels natural, service feels intuitive, and every detail is considered rather than displayed.

Every choice aboard Sanctuary reflects this philosophy. Spaces are designed to feel calm and lived-in. Journeys unfold at an unhurried pace. Experiences are shaped around the guest, not a fixed program — allowing moments to arise naturally rather than being orchestrated.

Here, exploration and rest exist side by side. Presence is valued over performance. And the sea is not a backdrop, but a partner — guiding each voyage with humility, respect, and intention.

slows your breath and luxury becomes calm.*

Heritage & Craftmanship

Sanctuary is shaped by generations of Indonesian maritime knowledge. At its foundation is the phinisi — a traditional sailing vessel refined over centuries for balance, endurance, and life at sea.

Built by master shipbuilders, each phinisi carries an understanding of wind, water, and movement passed down through hands-on practice rather than instruction. Proportion, structure, and material choices are guided by experience — creating vessels designed not for excess, but for reliability and harmony with their environment.

Sanctuary carries this heritage forward in a contemporary expression. Traditional craftsmanship is paired with modern engineering and refined interiors — seamlessly integrated to support safety, ease, and longevity at sea.

The result is a vessel that feels grounded and enduring. Deeply rooted in tradition, yet designed for the way we travel today.

History Of Pinisi

The term phinisi refers to a traditional Indonesian sailing vessel distinguished by its twin masts and multiple sails — an iconic silhouette developed for long-distance navigation across the archipelago.

Sanctuary is designed with a belief in simplicity as a way of living at sea. Every space is shaped to feel calm, open, and intuitive, allowing the ocean and the journey to remain the focus.

Clean lines, open decks, and natural materials create an atmosphere that feels grounded and intentional. Interiors are designed to live alongside the sea rather than compete with it — warm woods, soft textiles, and subtle textures echo the surrounding landscape, inviting ease and quiet presence.

Indonesian craftsmanship is expressed through material, proportion, and detail. Ikat-inspired patterns and handcrafted elements are integrated with care — not as decoration, but as natural reflections of culture and place.

Nothing aboard Sanctuary is excessive. Every detail serves comfort, clarity, and the experience of being fully present at sea.

Life On Board

Life aboard Sanctuary unfolds at the pace of the sea. There is no urgency, no rigid schedule — only the gentle rhythm of light, tide, and wind. Each day begins naturally, shaped by sunrise and the quiet movement of the vessel, allowing guests to ease into the moment rather than rush through it.

Mornings may start with a swim in clear waters, a quiet coffee on deck, or the soft hum of the ocean beneath your feet. As the day progresses, the vessel becomes both a place of exploration and rest. Guests are free to snorkel vibrant reefs, step ashore on secluded islands, or remain on board, enjoying the simple pleasure of stillness.

Communal moments are balanced with privacy. Shared meals encourage conversation and connection, while open decks and quiet corners invite reflection. There is always space to gather — and space to retreat.

Evenings aboard Sanctuary are unhurried and intimate. Sunset marks a natural transition, often accompanied by relaxed dining, soft conversation, and open skies. Nights are calm, anchored in silence and stars, offering rest that feels deep and restorative.

Life on board Sanctuary is not about doing more — it is about experiencing more. More presence. More connection. More meaning in each passing moment.

Culinary Experience

Dining on Sanctuary is shaped around the people it serves — their preferences, their pace, and the journey itself.

Menus are thoughtfully tailored, guided by guests' tastes and dietary needs. From Indonesian home-style dishes to lighter international favorites, every meal is created with care, simplicity, and balance.

Ingredients are sourced locally whenever possible, reflecting the surrounding islands and seasons. Fresh seafood, vibrant produce, and familiar flavors are prepared with passion, allowing quality and freshness to lead.

Meals take shape at a natural pace, enjoyed on deck, in the dining room, or somewhere quiet ashore — wherever feels most fitting.

On Sanctuary, dining is a shared moment shaped by intention and ease. Personal, generous, and quietly memorable.

Destinations of The Archipelago

Indonesia is an archipelago of endless diversity — thousands of islands shaped by volcanic landscapes, vibrant cultures, and some of the world's richest marine ecosystems. Sailing aboard Sanctuary offers a rare opportunity to experience this vast beauty slowly and intimately, guided by the rhythm of the sea.

From the dramatic islands of Labuan Bajo and Komodo National Park to remote bays, untouched beaches, and hidden anchorages, each destination is chosen for its atmosphere as much as its beauty. Here, encounters feel genuine — whether walking alongside Komodo dragons, diving among coral gardens, or anchoring beneath quiet stars.

Sanctuary's voyages are designed to reveal Indonesia beyond the expected. Time is given to explore, to connect, and to appreciate the character of each place. Every route is flexible, shaped by weather, season, and the interests of those on board.

These destinations are not simply places to visit — they are landscapes to experience, moments to absorb, and memories to carry long after the journey continues.

Labuan Bajo

Discover Labuan Bajo and its surrounding islands aboard Sanctuary, from Komodo National Park and Pulau Rinca to the iconic views of Pulau Padar. Each journey is thoughtfully tailored to your time and preferences, with the option to sail as far as Bali on extended voyages. Whether exploring hidden coves or simply enjoying the view, every experience is designed to be unforgettable.
